Final Beam Hoisted on Force Lab

The $6.8 million Force Lab addition project reached a new milestone recently. The final beam in the construction was hoisted on Saturday, September 15. An opportunity to leave a mark and a note to the future included a beam-signing by leadership of the Air Force, Bionetics, and the Port Authority.

Proactive Safety: Gas Lines Upgraded

The Energy Cooperative installed a new high-pressure gas line, a new regulator station, and new natural gas service lines on the Aerospace Center campus that became active this week. While the benefits of a new line are numerous, it's clear proactive safety is the top benefit from the upgrades.
